Alas! it is not till time, with reckless hand, has torn out half the leaves from the Book of Human Life, to light the fires of passion with, from day to day, that man begins to see that the leaves which remain are few in number.

— Longfellow, Hyperion, Bk. iv, ch. 8.

This data was originally intended to be published in a semi-blank book called The Book of Your Life. The idea was that there would be a pair of pages for each age; the left-hand pages would consist of other people's accomplishments, while the right-hand pages would be blank so you could fill in your own achievements.
